NEW YORK, March 26.—The New York market for wheat, old and new, is today in a state of confusion. The market is being flooded with wheat from the Argentine, and the Argentine wheat is being sold at a price of 75¢ per bushel, which is a price that is not only below the cost of production, but also below the cost of transportation. A black and white photograph of a book cover. The cover features a repeating geometric pattern of small squares and diamonds, creating a textured, woven appearance. The pattern is dark against a lighter background. The book is shown at a slight angle, revealing the spine on the left side. The overall image is in grayscale, emphasizing the contrast of the geometric design.
